German for juniors | Summer Courses 20 | Winter/Season Courses 24

did deutsch-institut Augsburg

The Bavarian capital isn't far away – it's only a 40 minutes train ride to Munich! However, the third largest town in Bavaria has its own, very unique charms: Living is easier here, cozier, less hectic. All around town you see little fountains, people enjoying the afternoons in street cafes and students having fun at soccer games in the parks. And, certainly, you see and feel Augsburg's grand history: During the renaissance, this town was the center of architecture, music and art. Holbein's and Mozart's ancestors come from here, and Augsburg is also the hometown of the famous play writer Bertold Brecht. If you came here once, you'll always come back – and its only 40 minutes to Munich!

German for juniors | Residence Courses

did deutsch-institut Berlin-Mitte

Nowhere is learning German more exciting than in Berlin! It took just a few years and the German capital transformed (again) into a true metropolis. Berlin might not be beautiful, it isn't elegant or glamorous – but Berlin is cool and trendy, exciting and so refreshingly different that you have to experience this city in order to understand why it has such an attraction for more and more people from all over the world... If you decide for the residence course in Berlin, you will not only experience a fascinating metropolis but you'll have the opportunity making friends with people from all kinds of cultural backgrounds. And while you discover the city with your new friends, you practice the language – Studying German can't be more fun than that.

did deutsch-institut Frankfurt

Are you adventurous? Do you enjoy a good surprise? Then come to Frankfurt – the city at the very heart of Germany. It is guaranteed to astound you with its many contrasts. It's no surprise that Frankfurt is rich and chic, hectic and bustling ... after all, it is the most important financial center in the country! Skyscrapers abound, everything beaming – just like America in the middle of Europe – but actually, it would be a mistake to reduce the metropolis on the Main River simply to its role as a financial center. The city has much more to offer than that. In addition to the three most important tourist sights – Frankfurt Cathedral, Römerberg (historic center) and St. Paul's Church – there are numerous museums, parks, gardens, and other interesting places to discover, as well as a variety of nearby excursion destinations to explore.

Residential building and aula | Höchst residence

did deutsch-institut Höchst im Odenwald

It is hard to pronounce the name Höchst. And this little town is always confused with the part of Frankfurt/Main which has the same name and which is famous for its pharmaceutical industries. Höchst im Odenwald, however, has nothing at all in common with a big city. In the opposite: This small town with only 10.000 residents is located in the middle of the Odenwald, a medium-size mountain range near Frankfurt, and it is surrounded by vast forests, pretty farms in the typical half-timbered style and medieval castles. And still – summertime is high life at Höchst, when kids and teens from over 60 countries get together at a former cloister to study German, to discover Germany with us, and to make many friends from all over the world.

did deutsch-institut Weimar

The junior residence lies on the edge of the historic city center, and is surrounded by orchards and small private gardens. It has its own grilling area as well as an outdoor open area for playing basketball and soccer. Although the building is quietly situated, the city center is not far away: it can be reached on foot in less than a half hour and by bus in as little as 10 minutes. The two- and four-bed rooms are all equipped with their own private bathrooms, which are cleaned daily. The hand towels are exchanged every four days at no cost to participants. Also included in the course price is unlimited free Wi-Fi Internet. Ping-pong, foosball as well as a billiard table are available for use during participants' free time.

did deutsch-institut Wien (Vienna | Austria)

Learning German with ambiance, at home with Emperor Franz Joseph I and Empress Elisabeth, how could a language vacation be more dreamlike? Belvedere Castle, the state opera, St. Stephan's cathedral, and Prater park, to name just a few sites and attractions worth a trip to Vienna. Many big names in art and culture, such as Sigmund Freud, Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, Ludwig van Beethoven, and Friedensreich Hundertwasser can be encountered here; they have all left their mark in the Austrian capital. But not everything here is simply tradition and history: Vienna is both classic and in-your-face, introspective and sensational at the same time. Thus, this German course will be an unforgettable experience.

German for juniors | Standard Courses 20

did deutsch-institut Aschaffenburg

Only 65,000 people live in Aschaffenburg, but you can reach this small town on the river Main as quickly and easily as you reach Paris, London or Rome. The reason is: Aschaffenburg is located very close to Frankfurt and only 40 kilometers east of the Frankfurt airport. From here, you can be everywhere in the world in no time at all - and all the world can be in Aschaffenburg! A visit in the so-called Bavarian Nizza is a special experience: The Pompejanum is a unique, famous attraction and the castles Johannisburg and Mespelbrunn bewitch our students year after year with their magic beauty. If you come to Aschaffenburg, you don't want to leave anymore - although, technically, it's so easy!

Cathedral and Deutzer Bridge | Cologne

did deutsch-institut Cologne

You think, it'll last for ever to speak German fluently? You're right! But we promise: It'll be faster than building a cathedral... It took exactly 632 years until Germany's most famous sightseeing attraction was completed – the Cologne Cathedral. And what kind of attraction it is! It stands 157 meters high and can accommodate up to 20.000 people. It would cost 10 billion Euro to build this cathedral today. The cathedral is the city's symbol and it is a symbol for a joy of living, too. Everywhere around the cathedral there are little alleys with restaurants, cafes and pubs. And if you like to cool your feet in the river Rhine in the summertime – the cathedral's large towers will protect you from getting sunburned.

did deutsch-institut Nuremberg

If it had been popular in Medieval Ages to book a language course in Germany – Nuremberg would have been the place to be. During these times, Nuremberg was known to be one of the most beautiful and richest trade centers in Europe. If you didn't find it here, you couldn't find it anywhere! Of course, the city changed since then. Today, Nuremberg is a lively and modern city. And still, you will feel Nuremberg's great historical significance when you see the countless magnificent town houses, palaces and churches. It is also a center of sports – no wonder, since Nuremberg is home to one of the most traditional German football clubs.

Sanssouci Castle | Potsdam

did deutsch-institut Potsdam

Potsdam is just a quick 38-minute train ride from the Berlin central train station on the S-Bahn. But even in that short distance, the difference between the two cities could hardly be greater. In contrast to the constantly reinvented metropolis that is Berlin, Potsdam is a completely historic location with famous parks and castles – for example, Sans-Souci Palace, the New Palace or the Orangery Palace. But in addition, the city is also young and innovative: 15% of its inhabitants are students and international block-busters are filmed in the Babelsberg film studio.

Spa and Casino | Wiesbaden

German for juniors | Standard Courses 20 | Intensive Courses 24

did deutsch-institut Wiesbaden

You might even think, that Wiesbaden is not the right place to study German. The first words you will learn when you come to Wiesbaden are French or English: Faites vos jeux, Roulette, Black Jack or Poker... Of course, you guessed right: Wiesbaden is Germany's Monte Carlo. The town is rich and beautiful and the casino is world-famous. Nobility, musicians, writers and other famous people were charmed by the Wiesbaden casino: Fjodor Dostojewski, Richard Wagner and Elvis Presley tried their luck at Wiesbaden. However, with diligence and hard work as well you can launch your career here, because Wiesbaden is the perfect place to study German: You'll have your peace and quiet without being bored - c'est parfait!
