RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

At least once a week we organize events and activities for campers to get together and enjoy a ridiculously fun night where they can dress up, be silly and enjoy being together. Campers are encouraged to be creative, inclusive and resourceful. Without even realizing it, kids develop valuable life skills and practice their second language. These events also help campers make friends and instantly become part of the community. Many of our events are hosted outside and are adapted to the interests of the campers.

Sports help develop valuable skills in young adults including confidence, teamwork, communication, endurance, determination, just to mention a few. Not to mention health benefits such as coordination, body posture, healthy habits, flexibility, strength and the list goes on! Many are exposed to new experiences and discover their new favorite sport.
